FULL REPORTS

Of Peace Commisson Meetings Sent to McKinley

By Judge Day and His Latest Report Rushed to Philadelphia by Means of a Special Messenger.

By Telegraph to THE TIMES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—Under impatience is attached to the sending of special messages to President McKinley at Philadelpiha yesterday. They had no special significance. Judge Day has been sending daily full statement of the doings of the peace commission to the President, which he goes over carefully in person. Yesterday's report was too long to conveniently reduce to cipher and too important to await the President's return. So the report was sent by a special messenger. There is talk that the Phillipine debt, contracted for the betterment of the Islands, may be assumed by the United States in case of annexation.

This Looks Serious.

Situation Very Critical.

By Telegraph to THE TIMES.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Gaulois, in speaking of the peace commission, says the situation is extremely strained. It is even feared that if the Spaniards do not yield on all points the negotiations will be broken off in the course of the next meeting and a renewal of hostilities may result.

DAMAGE SUIT

Of $10,000 Filed Against the C. & O. Railroad

On Account of the Death of John J. Korn in January.

Suit Brought by the Administrator—Prominent Attorneys Employed in the Case.

A suit was filed in the common pleas court of this county this afternoon against the C. & O. railroad for $10,000 damages, by John J. Korn, of Holmes county, as administrator of John J. Korn. The petition avers that on January 28th, 1898, the said John J. Korn, now deceased, boarded a C. & O. train as a passenger, being at the time sick, weak and hardly able to sit up, and the night being very dark and extremely cold. While at, or near, South Portsmouth the employes of said C. & O. railroad threw said Korn from the train without just cause or excuse, and in so doing used force and violence. By the fall to the ground he was rendered unconscious and remained lying there on that cold winter night until he then and there died. Wherefore the plaintiff asks for judgment for damages in the sum of $10,000. W. Stilwell, W. J. Worthington, Oscar W. Newman, plaintiff's attorneys.

for the purpose of winding up our business affairs—to invoice our stock and turn it over to the new firm—our successors. We would like to continue selling till the very last minute, if possible, but the rush of business we are having would never permit us to attend to other matters of far more importance at this time if our doors were open to the purchasing public. So the last few hours of the business life of the firm of Sanford, Varner & Co will be spent behind closed doors, and so we, as a firm, will quietly pass out of existence and give way to the new firm that will succeed us.

MEANWHILE we shall be pleased to see any of our old friends and patrons, and especially any who may not have attended our Dissolution Sale. Many of the most desirable things of our stock, in the usual hurry attending such times, have escaped the eyes of all comers and are still waiting for some fortunate purchaser.

This is Your Last Chance to Purchase from the Well Known Firm of Sanford, Varner & Co.

SATURDAY, NIGHT, OCT. 29th, 1898,

Just six months ago yesterday—the 26th—Company H started to the war.

Stephen Morgan now repeats that speech with a great deal more ease than he did at first. It has grown quite familiar to him.

If the boiler-plated gang organ has a circulation that it is proud of, why don't it announce the size thereof to a doubting public? It doesn't dare present any figures!

Do not fail to register TOMORROW. You may lose your vote if you do not attend to this. Polls open from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 4 o'clock until 9 o'clock in the evening.

The most reliable information is that the Fourth Ohio will sail from Porto Rico in a few days. Company H will receive a royal welcome when the boys come marching home, and Portsmouth will indeed be proud of her own.

Many a Republican soldier has been turned down by the Scioto county gang—men like Captain Skelton and Captain Beatty. Then, when a campaign is on, they try to feed them with "locusts and wild honey." How they do love the veterans as the day of the ballot-box draws near!

There is some talk of another outbreak among the Indians. The Shoshones out in Nevada are getting ready for a war dance. We can send Alger and Dr. Huidekoper out there to annihilate them, and after the New York election Teddy, the Rough Rider, will have ample leisure to scatter the red-skins.

Co. H didn't kill many Spaniards, but they frightened them into prompt surrender. If peace had spread her wings over the contending ports a few hours later the boys, with their guns already aimed, would have sent many a Spaniard to the land of the hereafter. But a worse fate was reserved for them—they now go back to Spain, the land of the "heretofore."

The readers of the Blade will notice that when the editor seeks to bolster up the circulation he is very careful not to mention the number of papers he prints. He has to keep the public in complete ignorance of the size of his edition. To mention the number would give the whole thing away. He knows the Times has fifty per cent. more subscribers than the gang organ.

The workingmen would like to have Steve Morgan, or any other Hanna spell-binder, tell where and how much the wages of laboring men have been increased since McKinley grasped the helm of state. Furnaces in his county are now idle that were then in blast, and all over the country the coal miners are in a sorry plight and are striking for living wages. Writers who have examined the matter state that the condition of the coal miners in this country in regard to steady employment, protection of life and person, honest dealing, and even in the matter of wages, is worse than it is in England. And yet we are passing through the "honest money" and protection era of McKinley and Dingley.

The editor of the Blade, in an unfortunate moment, tried to create the impression that he had a real circulation by basing it on the number of "want notices" that appeared in its columns. He exultingly announced that fifty such notices could be found in that issue, and therefore the circulation must be great. That was one week ago. How have the mighty fallen! Last evening but sixteen such notices appeared in that sheet, and but fifteen notices showed up the evening before. So, taking that as a test, as he proposed, the Blade circulation has dropped more than two-thirds during the past week. This is sad. He will have to build up his want column at once and hang on to a lot of stale notices to keep up appearances.

Friday and Saturday next are the last days for registration.

WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY

The contract for the electrical work for the new Burgess mill was awarded yesterday by Mr. York to the Westinghouse Electric company. The contract figures up at something over $12,000 and is a very nice one. Mr. Hodge, the clever little representative of the Westinghouse people, was greatly elated over his success. Last night he took his rivals for the contract—the representatives of the General Electric Co. and the Triumph Co.—to the opera house to see "A Stranger in New York." The party was a gay one and they enjoyed the show thoroughly.

The Westinghouse company will ship the machinery immediately and will have a number of expert electricians here superintending its construction.

Mr. Bryant left for home today at noon, but, so far as known, did not make a deal.

FOOT AMPUTATED

As the Result of an Accidental Shooting.

Several weeks ago the Times gave an account of the accidental shooting through the heel of Russell Frowine, of near Harrisonville. Everything has been done since then that the best medical skill could devise to save the foot, but it was finally decided that the only thing to do would be to amputate the foot, and this was done Wednesday morning by Dr. McCann, of Harrisonville, assisted by Dr. Ray and others.

A BOILED HAM

Mysteriously Disappeared from Seel's Bakery Last Night.

Adam Seel is mourning the loss of a fine boiled ham, which disappeared in some mysterious way last night from his place of business. Mr. Seel had prepared it for a lunch he was to serve at the Elk parlors, but when he went to look for his boiled ham it had gone "where the wood-bine twineth," and more than that no man knoweth. Mr. Seel is out his ham. The Elks missed part of their lunch, but some unfortunate is no doubt reveling in boiled ham.

IN A WRECK

Charley Heer Has an Exciting Experience Near Omaha.

The Train Wrecked and His Sleeper Plunged Over a Small Embankment —Was Bruised Considerably.

Mr. Charles Heer came in yesterday from a trip West in the interests of the Heer Shoe company. He made the principal cities in the West and demonstrated his ability as a hustling salesman by having the best and most successful trip since he has been on the road.

Mr. Heer had an exciting experience Monday night, being mixed up in a bad wreck near Omaha, Neb. He had spent three days in Omaha, taking in the exposition, and left Monday night for home. A short distance out of Omaha the train was wrecked, the whole train being derailed. The sleeper in which Mr. Heer was traveling was split open and all passengers badly shaken up. Mr. Heer was knocked about and his left shoulder was badly bruised. He is congratulating himself that he was not in his berth. Had he been he would have been badly injured, as a heavy timber was found lying on the berth. The man in the adjoining berth was seriously hurt. Mr. Heer is slightly disfigured, but he is still in the ring for other wrecks.

AT THE GRAND

Hoyt's Stranger in New York a Decided Hit—A Good Show.

Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York" was fairly well patronized at the grand opera house last evening, and everyone got their money's worth, with good interest. It was the greatest hit of the season. Every character was good. Mr. Joseph Coyne, as "the Stranger in New York," was soon the favorite of the entire audience. Art Deegan was the happy all-round man, and he proved himself a good entertainer. Will Chase gave some fine exhibitions in dancing and acrobatic feats. Miss Alice Holbrook was really the best of them all. Miss Lola Small, as a Richmond belle, in her magnificent costume, was the leading attraction, and the answer to the query, "What will the men think of me?" could be read upon the countenances of everyone present.

The show was a "hot one" from start to finish. If Manager Johnson could always bring such shows to the front the patronage of the opera house would soon largely increase.

KINDERGARTEN.

FRATERNAL BODIES

Met Last Night and Arranged to Take Part in Co. H Parade.

A meeting of the Fraternal bodies was held at the Pythian hall on Tuesday night to get an expression whether they would participate in a public reception to Co. H. The following bodies were represented:

Massie Lodge No. 115 K. of P.—W. D. Hoss, P. S. Revare, Otto Lauffer, Gus B. Barlow, Louis Keller.

Woodland Division No. 57 U. R. K. of P.—A. Reinhard, Carre Johnston, F. M. Cramer, Gus B. Barlow, Louis Keller.

Scioto Lodge No. 31, I. O. O. F.—Ben Bratt, W. H. Kress, Jacob Phillips, W. K. Thompson, J. N. Rainey.

Canton Orient, Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F.—John M. Doerr, Sam Phillips, Wm. Willis, Trus M. Lynn, B. F. Lynn.

Seneca Tribe, I. O. R. M.—Chas. Crain, Harry C. McKay, Roy McElhaney, James T. Taylor, Jos. Swander.

The meeting organized with W. K. Thompson as chairman and W. D. Hoss as secretary. The sense of the meeting was that the members of every fraternal organization participate in one body without designating the order, excepting the two uniformed bodies of Woodland division and Canton Orient, who would form the right and left posts of honor of the fraternal division. In this way every member of any fraternal organization, it was thought, could be induced to turn out.

A committee consisting of one from each of the bodies present, namely, Gus. B. Barlow, A. Reinhard, Ben Bratt, Sam Phillips and Jos. Swander, were selected to urge each fraternal body in the city to appoint a committee of five and report to Chairman Thompson, who will select one from that number and add to this special committee to make arrangements for taking part in this fraternal display.

This committee will also co-operate with the ex-members of Co. H, who have the celebration in charge, and do everything possible to make their part of the turnout a success.

All fraternal orders are urged to send in their committees at once to Chairman Thompson, so that arrangements will not be delayed.

PEABODY'S RESIGNATION.

The Railroad Man Said to Have a Gubernatorial Bee Buzzing.

"To the employes of the B. & O. S-W. road," says the Parkersburg Sentinel, "the resignation of Capt. W. W. Peabody came as a cloud over the clearest of skies. They thought it such, for the popular vice-president was a personal friend of every man on the road. It is said of him that he knew by name every man who remined in the employ of the road six months or longer. The reason of Captain Peabody's resignation is said to have been on account of an affection of his eyes, but those who know him best say that such is not the case, but that he is a candidate for the gubernatorial chair of Ohio. To start his boom, he is now campaigning through Ohio, and the report comes that big crowds greet him at every point. With the standing he has in Cincinnati and among the railroad men of the entire state, his friends think he is the logical candidate in Ohio for the position."

DEAD

End Has Come to Private Elbert L. Patterson.

He Gave Up His Brave Young Life for His Country

And Breathed His Last in Far Off Puerto Rico.

Editor Patterson in New York City With His Son's Body

And That of Daniel Dodge, Who Died Some Weeks Ago—Particulars of Patterson's Death Very Meager.

A brief telegraphic message received this morning from Editor J. L. Patterson told of the great sorrow which had befallen himself and family.

His soldier son, Private Elbert L. Patterson, of Company H, Fourth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, is no more. He has given up his brave young life, a willing sacrifice on the altar of his country, and in far-off Porto Rico he breathed his last.

The message conveying the sad news was received at eleven o'clock this morning. It was dated at New York City and was as follows:

New York, Oct. 27.

Times, Portsmouth, O.

Arrived this morning with the bodies of Elbert and Dan Dodge. Will wire particulars later.

J. L. PATTERSON.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune has a New York special stating that the transport Manitoba arrived late last night from Porto Rico. This is the ship on which Mr. Patterson went to Porto Rico, and it is presumed that he returned on the same vessel.

The first telegram received by the Times gave no intimation as to when or where Elbert Patterson died. The supposition is, however, that the end came to him in Porto Rico, as otherwise the body would undoubtedly have been buried at sea.

The news of the death of this young soldier boy spread over the city with lightning-like rapidity and the expressions of grief and sorrow over his sad fate were universal. The family have the sincere sympathy of everybody in their great grief.

The dead boy, Elbert L. Patterson, was not yet eighteen years of age. He was born in McConnellsville, Morgan county, and his youth was spent in that village, and on his grand-father's farm, about fifteen miles from McConnellsville, his mother having died when he was quiet small. Later he resided in Akron and then, in 1892, when Editor Patterson bought the Portsmouth Times, he brought his family to this city. Elbert entered the public schools here and graduated with honor in the class of '97.

Immediately after graduating the boy joined the reporting staff of the Daily Times, being connected with the paper for almost a year. The writer had been on intimate terms of friendship with Elbert Patterson ever since he was a very small boy, and it is a pleasure to say that there was in him every promise of a brilliant and successful newspaper career. He was quick and clever, knew a news item when he saw it and knew how to "handle" it when he had it. He had the faculty of making friends and in no part of the city is his death more deeply deplored than in the East End, which he visited daily on his rounds for news.

In the early part of the year 1897 the deceased became a member of Company H, of the Fourteenth Ohio regiment of the National Guards, although he was under the age of enlistment. He went with the Fourteenth regiment to Nashville to the Tennessee exposition.

In April of this year, when the war with Spain broke out, there was not a member of Company H more eager to go to the front than Elbert Patterson. He was but little past seventeen years of age, but that made no difference to him. He was eager to go with his company, and his father, yielding to his request, consented to his enlistment.

He marched away from Portsmouth with Company H on the 26th of April, going to Columbus, where he was mustered into the United States service. At Columbus he was named as one of the corporals of the regiment by Captain Prichard and filled that office with great credit. During the summer Corporal Patterson was with his regiment at Camp Thomas, in Chickamauga, and made an excellent record for himself. He went to Porto Rico with his regiment, and in that country was ever willing to do his duty until stricken with disease. For four weeks he suffered from a violent attack of diarrhoea, which finally sent him to the hospital. There he was attacked with typhoid fever in its most violent form, and the end either came to him about a week ago or else on the voyage home.

In the latter part of the month of September a letter was received by Editor Patterson from his son. In it he told of his weakened condition and said he was afraid he was going to have typhoid fever. The letter closed by asking his father to get his discharge immediately, as otherwise he did not think he would ever get out of Porto Rico alive.

Editor Patterson immediately went to Washington and the acting secretary of war ordered Elbert's discharge, as he was under age. This was September 29th. A few days later Editor Patterson sailed for Porto Rico to bring back his boy and the body of Dan Dodge. Shortly after his arrival he cabled that Elbert was critically ill and that he feared he would not recover, and the sequel shows his fears were well founded. Nothing further was heard from him until the message was received this morning.

While with Company H Elbert Patterson continued his relations with the Times as correspondent and his letters were read with great pleasure by the Times readers in Portsmouth. His letters were conservative in tone, but he gave the news of the company in a very readable manner. After the Portsmouth boys went to Porto Rico, several letters were received from Corporal Patterson, as he then was. In one of them he spoke of the sad circumstances surrounding the death of a member of Company H and stated that the boy did not receive the proper treatment. When this letter reached the camp Col. Coit abused young Patterson before the company and ordered him reduced to the ranks. How much this trouble and the manner in which the boy was subsequently treated, or rather mistreated, had to do with his illness remains to be seen.

No further message was received by the Times from Editor Patterson up to the time of going to press. We are not therefore advised as to when he will arrive in Portsmouth. He will, in all probaiblity, bring with him not only the body of his son, but that of Daniel Dodge as well. The latter's remains will likely be taken to Champaign county for burial.

The deceaesd was a splendid young man in every respect. He had a good mind and was inclined to be very studious. He was well read and was better informed than many persons years his senior. Had he lived to pursue his career as a newspaper man he would undoubtedly have made a brilliant success in life.

The Antiquity of Glass.

Glass has been employed, we know, both for decorative and domestic purposes since the dawn of civilization. The earliest remains date from Egypt 3064 B. C. and are preserved in the British museum. It is an amulet, in the form of a lion's head, of opaque blue color, with hieroglyphics that determine its date. On the rock cut tombs of the necropolis of Memphis glass blowers were depicted as early as 3900 B. C. Stories are told by Pliny, Josephus and other writers to account for its discovery, but these are very doubtful, so that we have only to rely upon facts attested by actual remains.

The discovery was doubtless fortuitous. Such lucky finds are often the work of chance. When it occurred, we cannot determine; but, so far as we know, Egypt, as she was the germ of all civilization, was also the mother of this art, which she applied to a multitude of purposes, strangely excepting that which we deem most necessary—namely, to admit light into buildings.

The dwellers by the Nile handed down the art to the Phœnicians, who in like manner bequeathed it to the Assyrians. Then it was passed along to the Persians and the Greeks, then to the Romans and the Byzantines, who in turn communicated it to the Venetians. The monks of the middle ages appropriated it to beautify their Gothic temples, and so it came down the centuries to modern times.—Frank H. Vizetelly in Woman's Home Companion.

A Hopeless Case.

A Scottish paper tells a story of an old Scottish woman who was "unco' drouthie," without the money to buy "a drappie." "Lassie," she said to her little granddaughter, "gang round to Donald McCallum and bring me a gill. Tell him I'll pay him i' the morning."

Back came the child with a refusal, Donald declined to part with his whisky without the cash. Eager and irritated, the old woman cast about for some means of "raising the wind," and her eye fell upon the family Bible. "Here, lassie," she said, "gie him this and tell him to keep it until I bring him the siller." Off went the little girl, but she soon returned, still carrying the Bible. Donald was obdurate.

"He says he maun hae the baubees first, granny."

In anger the disappointed grandmother threw up her hands and exclaimed: "Losh, did onybody ever hear the like o' that! The man will neither tak my word nor the word o' God for a gill o' whusky!"

How Snake Poison Kills.

The action of poisons upon the system is and always has been one of the most interesting of subjects. Just how and why it kills has been determined through a series of experiments made by scientists. The following description is unquestionably the best and most lucid of any that has been given to the public: "The venom may be roughly separated into two parts—one acting upon the blood, and the other upon the nerves. When injected, it immediately begins to create terrible destruction in the blood vessels, the walls of the veins are eaten away and an internal hemorrhage takes place. While this is going on a portion of the venom is attacking the nerves. Particularly susceptible to its ravages is the 'vasomotor' system, a nerve center which controls the muscles of respiration. Paralysis takes place in these organs, and the victim generally dies from an inability to breathe."—New York Ledger.

Bismarck's Ancestors.

It is stated that the Bismarcks first made their appearance in Brandenburg as cloth merchants. In 1430 or thereabout it is believed that one Claus Bismarck advanced a sum of money to the Margrave Ludwig, which was secured upon the customs of his native town. The citizens, however, rebelling against this arrangement, the margrave assigned to Claus Bismarck the fief of Burgstall, and it was in this manner that the nobility of the family began. In the middle of the sixteenth century the Bismarcks came under the sway of the Hohenzollerns, to whom they have ever remained faithful vassals.—London Globe.

A Fancy For Old Hats.

The inhabitants of the Nicobar islands, a group in the Indian ocean, have an extraordinary fancy for old hats, and a regular trade in such cast off headgear is carried on between Calcutta and Nicobar, the much desired headpieces being paid for in cocoanuts. A tall chimney pot is the favorite among the Nicobarians, and the acme of fashion is considered to be a high white hat with a black hatband. This is worth from 50 to 60 cocoanuts, and is worn by the Nicobarian dandy when he goes out fishing, the rest of his attire consisting solely of a waistcoat.

Mild Protest Against an American Protectorate.

DISTINCTIVE GOVERNMENT,

By and For the Cubans, Desired by the Assembled Delegates.

URGENT APPEAL FOR RATIONS.

It Is Flatly Refused by Governor General Wood, Who Insists That the Insurgent Forces Must First Disarm and Disband—The Latter Wish to Remain In Service and Do Garrison Duty on the Island.

Santiago, Oct. 27.—Armed men to assist in preserving order were offe by Cuban general, Rios, who asked rations in return. The request was made through Mayor Petit, commander of the American troops at Manzanillo.

General Wood sent the following reply: "Certainly not. The only conditions on which rations are to be issued are the complete disarmament and disbandment of the troops."

Many of the patriots here think that the United States is treating its allies badly in not allowing the Cuban forces to remain armed. They contend that the Cuban soldiers who have been fighting three years, who speak the language of the country, are better fitted for garrison duty than "untrained volunteers."

The Cuban general, Macie Rodriguez, virtually voices the sentiment of the Cuban army when he says: "We thank the United States for the assistance it has gven us, but the time has now arrived when the Cubans should be placed in the highest offices and should prepare to take over the island on the departure of the Spanish."

Rejoicing are Santiago extremists at the reported attitude of the Cuban assembly at Santa Cruz Del Sur, where the delegates, while expressing their gratitude to the Americans, practically demand a distinctive Cuban government. The Cuban moderates, on the other hand, regret this stand, thinking it best for the United States authorities to continue in charge of affairs for a year at least, so as to set things going and to prevent any complications with foreign governments. Those who advocate annexation to the United States are extremely anxious as to the outcome.

The foreign consuls are considering the advisability of appealing to the powers to prevent a too hasty recognition of the Cuban government.

Ordered South.

Camp Poland, Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—General W. J. McKee, commanding this camp, and Colonel Cornelius Gardner of the Thirty-first Michigan, commanding the First brigade of the division stationed here, have received orders directing them to proceed at once to Macon and Atlanta respectively and select sites for the regiments of their commands. They say the movement of the troops will begin about the last of next week.

To Join General Lee.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Four companies of the Second regiment of volunteer engineers now at Montauk have been ordered to join General Lee's corps at Savannah. The Sixth Missouri infantry has been designated to remain at Jacksonville and guard the stores of the Seventh corps until removed. This regiment will not go to Savannah with the remainder of the corps.

Camp Sites In Cuba.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The final selection of camp sites for the American troops who will garrison Cuba awaits the president's return from Philadelphia. The troops will not be landed at any one place, but each detachment will be landed at the nearest and most accessible port to the place which is to form its camping ground.

Cubans to Return to Work.

Havana, Oct. 27.—Advices from Cardenas announce the discharge, by voluntary request, of 57 men belonging to the Cuban forces under command of General Rojas, whose headquarters are at Varadero, near Cardenas. These men asked for their discharge in order to enable them to return to the cultivation of their property.

It is expected that the receipts for this month will exceed $100,000.

The speaker favored the government of our possessions in the Philippines and Porto Rico in the same manner in which the district of Alaska was governed. He bitterly attacked the administration for not having recognized the freedom and independence of the Cuban people.

Reds on the Warpath.

Canon City, Ore., Oct. 27.—A shooting affray in which Indians shot and seriously wounded Dave Cuttings and shot the horses from under F. Duncan and F. Mosier occurred near here. The redskins then went to the home of John High and shot him, but not fatally. A well armed posse from Canon City has taken up the trail and hard fighting is expected, as the Indians are well armed.

The new company, as has been previously announced, has a capitalization of $18,000,000.

Omaha, Oct. 27.—Three men were killed and one severely injured in a rear-end collision on the Union Pacific road.

The dead are: Samuel Hindman, engineer; William Ranan, fireman; B. Shannon, brakeman. Seriously injured: John Griffin, fireman.

A freight train was standing on the sidetrack and the switch being left open, freight No. 27 going at a good rate of speed, crashed in the rear end of the extra. The engine was badly wrecked and four freight cars reduced almost to kindling wood.

Samuel Hindman, engineer of No. 2., was taken from the wreck unconscious. He died later. William Ranan, the fireman, was caught in the freight cars, being thrown a distance of several feet, and was wedged in between timbers and parts of the engine.

Jones, who has been for a week in Minnesota making negotiations, which were successful, with the Chippewa Indians for the resumption of peaceful relations with the government, has returned to Washington and made a verbal report to Secretary Bliss upon his work. Died From Football Injuries.

Stronger Than Oak.

Foot bridges in Morocco that are used for heavy traffic have been the subject of much concern to the engineers. Elm planks on oak stringpieces were the materials employed, but these wore out so rapidly that a return to the old style of building was proposed. This consisted of cables made from the fiber of the aloe. These cables are plaited and twisted from fiber and are nearly two inches thick and 8½ inches wide. They are saturated with tar and firmly nailed to oak planking. The ends are fastened by iron straps. These cables make most admirable footpaths. They are sufficiently elastic to be pleasant under the feet, and experience has demonstrated that they are far more durable than any material heretofore applied for this purpose.

AVERTED A CRISIS,

Though the Situation In Spain Is Still Serious.

SAGASTA TO STAY AT THE HELM.

Otherwise the Peace Negotiations Might Have Been Gravely Compromised—One of the Many Disadvantages Under Which Spain's Commissioners Are Laboring at the Paris Conference.

Paris, Oct. 27.—An air of mystery surrounded the session of the American and Spanish peace commissioners. Extreme reticence was observed by both sides.

The Americans fully appreciate not only their own serious responsibilities, but also the delicate position of their Spanish colleagues, to the burden of whose duties here is now added the critical political situation at Madrid, which may compel the president of the Spanish commission (who is also president of the senate), Senor Montero Rios, to leave Paris.

In confirmation of the rumor that Premier Sagasta and the queen regent have prevailed upon the minister of war General Correa, to indefinitely postpone his resignation, pending the conclusion of the peace negotiations, a Spaniard says that they represented to the general that his withdrawal might entail not only the fall of the cabinet, but cause the resignation of certain members of the Spanish commission, including Senor Montero Rios, and thereby gravely compromise the issue of the peace negotiations.

It seems that an open crisis has been avoided, as a net result, until the conclusion of the treaty of peace. In any case this has done away with the necessity for an ad interim government, which was lately suggested as likely to be a solution of the present difficulties.

As the peace negotiations are now nearing the discussion of the Philippine question the Americans feel that no stage of the proceedings has so demanded their considerate treatment.

The Spanish peace commissioners presented a new counter memorandum declaring their readiness, provisionally to accept an article of a preliminary treaty stipulating that "Spain shall relinquish all rights to soveregnty in Cuba without formulating any other claim and to leave in suspense all remaining questions and especially the Philippines.

To reply to this new memorandum the Americans asked until Thursday. This is regarded as a favorable sign, being a slight relaxation of the rigidity the Americans have hitherto shown.

It is thought here that nobody will be able to force Spain to accept the Cuban debt, for, apart from bankruptcy, she could only meet the liabilities at the expense of her foreign bondholders, which by strange anomoly would have to pay for the independence of Cuba.

Spanish Troops Want Pay.

Havana, Oct. 27.—The bitter feeling among the Spanish troops against the government for not paying them is increasing daily and menaces are heard. There may be serious trouble. At first the government proposed to pay only those who were discharged. Then after protest it offered to pay all by promisory notes, a proposal which was refused. No cash settlement has been made and the entire body expresses its dissatisfaction openly.

Would Affect Peace Treaty.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—Concerning the threatened cabinet crisis, it is pointed out that there is no possibility of a change of government, because a change would almost certainly cause the resignation of the Spanish commissioners in Paris. Senor Sagasta will remain at the helm until the treaty of peace is signed, unless General Weyler or the military elements cause trouble.

Blanco's Manifesto.

Havana, Oct. 27.—General Blanco has issued the following general order: "Having received by cable a communication from the minister of war at Madrid, announcing that the troops will be paid and discharged upon their arrival in Spain, I have resolved to suspend all further discharges, pursuant to my order of Oct. 4, of troops desiring to remain in the island."

Invaded the Golden Gate.

San Francisco, Oct. 27. — The Arbuckle company invaded this territory and reduced the price of sugar from 5¾ to 5¼ cents. The cut was immediately met by the western refinery.

OVER A GIRL.

Two Men Engage In a Quarrel Which Terminates Fatally.

Greenville, O., Oct. 27.—In a fight over a girl at New Harrison, this county, an old man, Benjamin Murphy, was struck with a club in the hands of Lee Nease, a young man, and died soon afterward. County officers have gone after the murderer. The deceased was a well-known and respected citizen, while his assailant is a desperate character now under $1,000 peace bond.

Sold His Sister-In-Law.

Lorain, O., Oct. 27.—John Lupek, a Hungarian, wanted the sister-in-law of Fred Stockish for a wife and advanced $37.50 for her passage to this country. The girl came, but did not take to the idea of becoming Lupek's bride, and fell in love with another. The latest claimant to her affections was told by Stockish that he might have his sister-in-law for $65. Terms were agreed upon and the couple were married. Now comes Lupek with a suit to recover from Stockish the $37.50 which he advanced for the girl's passage to this country.

A Murderous Assault.

Marion, O., Oct. 27.—Joseph Farley, a quarryman, made a murderous assault on a fellow-workman, John Ancrom, with whom he had quareled several times. He stole up behind Ancrom and dealt him a heavy blow on the head with a heavy club, felling him to the ground and fracturing his skull. But little hope is entertained for his recovery.

A Double Murder.

Pineville, Ky., Oct. 27.—On Phillips Fork creek, 16 miles from here, Van Howard, a lumberman, shot and killed Lark Thomas, a negro, and also mortally wounded a white man named Smith. The negro and Smith had been engaged in logging for Howard, and Howard owed them a debt for their labor, and when they demanded it he refused to pay. A quarrel ensued, in which Howard shot Thomas dead and fatally wounded Smith and then made his escape.

Narrow Escape From Death.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 27.—The tug Dixon and life saving crew rescued Captain Horace Acres and crew of six men from the barge D. L. Filer. The men had been clinging to the rigging for 24 hours and were half dead from exposure. The ship was abandoned. She was one of a tow of barges bound for Chicago and broke away from the steamer Pallio off Port Washington.

Quiet at Paris.

Paris, Oct. 27.—A feeling distinctly more peaceable regarding the Fashoda affair prevails in Paris. President Faure is taking the crisis quietly and says that M. Brisson fell because he wished to fell. It is now rumored that General Chanoine resigned the war office portfolio out of pique at the refusal of the general staff committee to give him command of an army corps.

Killed by a Negro Cook.

Warsaw, Va., Oct. 27.—Captain James Crockett, commander of an oyster boat, was killed and his mate seriously wounded by a negro cook near Colonial Beach after a quarrel. The crew reports that after the shooting the negro jumped overboard and was drowned, but the supposition is that he was killed and then thrown overboard by the enraged crew.

Army of the Tennessee.

Toledo, Oct. 27.—The first business session of the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee was held here with 150 members from all parts of the country in attendance. General A. S. Hickenlooper of Cincinnati acted as chairman. The treasurer's annual report showed a balance o. $14,000. A resolution was adopted indersing the plan for a military park at Vickburg.

Will Be No Rate Cutting.

New York, Oct. 27.—President Sloan of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road said: "The joint traffic decision was no surprise to me. There will be no disturbance of railroad business because of this decision. I do not fear any rate cutting or demoralizing of rates."

Deeply Involved.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 27.—Executions amounting to $177,000 were filed in the sheriff's office here against Edwin Laufer, a South Bethlehem merchant and extensive real estate agent.

A THRILLING TIME

Had by Shipwrecked Crews In Tremendous Seas.

DESTRUCTIVE WORK OF THE GALE.

Shores of Lake Michigan Dotted With the Hulks of Foundered Vessels, the Work of Destruction Being Completed by the Surf—Escapes of Storm-Tossed Crews Were Narrow and Marvelous.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—For a day and night tremendous seas have been rolling on Lake Michigan. The gale continued fierce up to midnight, when the high winds abated.

The storm brought a long list of disaster to the local schooner fleet. A canvas of the craft at this end of Lake Michigan shows the following are missing: Aberdeen, grain from Chicago; Delta, lumber from Cheboygan; Biwabik, grain from Chicago; Stafford and McWilliams.

From the schooner L. Pahlow the Delta and D. S. Filer broke off Port Washington. The Pahlow has arrived here, the Filer has been abandoned by her crew, water logged, off Racine, and the Delta is believed to be drifting dismasted 15 miles off Kenosha. The Aloha went adrift from the Kalkaska and water logged off Grosse Point. The crew were brought ashore by the tug Perfection. Efforts are being made to save the vessel. The Maxwell, Cape Horn and Minerva lost canvas and deck loads. Four schooners are at anchor in shallow water south of the harbor, but they are safe.

The Susquehanna passed a four-masted barge hove to in midlake off Kenosha. She is thought to be the Olive Jeanette. She was riding the storm in good shape and had no distress signals flying, so the Susquehanna did not go to her.

Anxiety exists among the marine men about the Aberdeen. It was hoped she was at anchor off New Buffalo, but a telegram from that point says that nothing has been seen of her in that region. She had not been sighted by incoming steamers, and from the reports of the Tuttle at Michigan City, the worst is feared.

Destruction of the Tuttle.

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 27.—The steamer H. A. Tuttle, grainladen from Chicago, is sunk in the mouth of the river a total wreck. The seas are breaking over her, and she is broken in two. The crew was rescued by lifesavers after 20 hours of extreme peril. The schooner Aberdeen, consort of the Tuttle, was cast adrift on Lake Michigan, and when last seen was laboring heavily, whereabouts being unknown. The Tuttle is owned by the Nicholas Transit company of Cleveland. Her cargo consisted of 76,000 bushels of corn, and was insured for $27,000. The schooner Aberdeen was worth $47,000, and her cargo of corn was insured for $25,000.

More Vessels Ashore.

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 27.—The steamer Republic, bound up with cargo, went ashore on North Point. The wind was blowing at the rate of 60 miles an hour, and the sea was terrific. The lifesaving crew from Thunder Bay island reports that the ship is not badly damaged as yet, and the crew preferred to remain on board. The Republic is a steel craft, and one of the best built boats on the lakes. She is worth $200,000. The steel steamer Ramapo of the Union Steamboat company came in for shelter badly damaged by the heavy sea. It is reported that another steamer is ashore on North Point, but her name cannot be learned.

Soaked In the Lake.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 27.—While a large crowd of people were watching a tug entering the harbor with a car ferry belonging to the Lake Michigan Car Ferry company and loaded with 28 cars, the sidewalk, which had been undermined by the seas, gave way and let the crowd into the lake. About 50 people went down, but all escaped but two little girls, who were slightly injured.

A Total Wreck.

Osceoda, Mich., Oct. 27.—The steamer E. F. Gould went ashore in a furious gale and lies within a few rods of the wreck of the George Steele. The crew, which included one woman, were taken ashore by the lifesavers from Tawas Point. The wind is heavy from the north, and the Gould is doomed.

Washed Away the Docks.

Sheboygan, Wis., Oct. 27.—The loss to dock property by the gale will amount to many thousands of dollars. Over 100 feet of the Taylor dock was washed out. Several lumber firms suffered severely.

McKinley at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—President McKinley was tendered a dinner and reception at the Union league. The dinner was informal and was given by the board of directors of the league. There were 60 at the table. At the reception, which followed, there were fully 4,000 guests. He stood in one of the side rooms, the line of visitors passing and shaking him by the hand.

Cap. Hatfield a Free Man.

Dingess, W. Va., Oct. 27.—Cap Hatfield is now a free man. The jury in the celebrated murder case brought in a verdict of not guilty. Hatfield arose, thanked the jury and judge, and his wife and aged mother, seated near, rushed up and clasped their arms about him.

Crowds at Omaha.

Omaha, Oct. 27. — Most delightful weather attracted a very large number of exposition visitors. All trains were full of people.

GREENBACKS or Government Money.

At close of our Civil War in 1865, there appeared in the London Times the following:

"If that mischievous financial policy which had its origin in the North American Republic during the late Civil War in that country, should become indurated down to a fixture, then that government will furnish its money without cost. It will have all the money that is necessary to carry on its trade and commerce. It will become prosperous beyond precedent in the history of civilized nations of the world. The brain and wealth of all countries will go to North America. THAT GOVERNMENT MUST BE DESTROYED OR IT WILL DESTROY EVERY MONARCHY ON THIS GLOBE."

The famous Hazzard circular, to capitalists in New York, and the Buell Bank circular to United States Bankers, both emanating from London, and the fabulous corruption fund raised in England and Germany, estimated at $1,500,000, were the agents that secured the closing of our mints against silver.

The "walk into my parlor" policy of England, during and since the Spanish War, is the latest evidence of English Diplomacy in shaping the destiny of the United States Government.

Notwithstanding the famine price of wheat, the Spanish War, and fabulous expenditures of money by our government during the past year, gold has increased in value eleven per cent. and all other values decreased in the same proportion.
